

joyellenreiter@gmail.com

March 2014

MR AND MRS RYAN REITER

The Wedding Newsletter

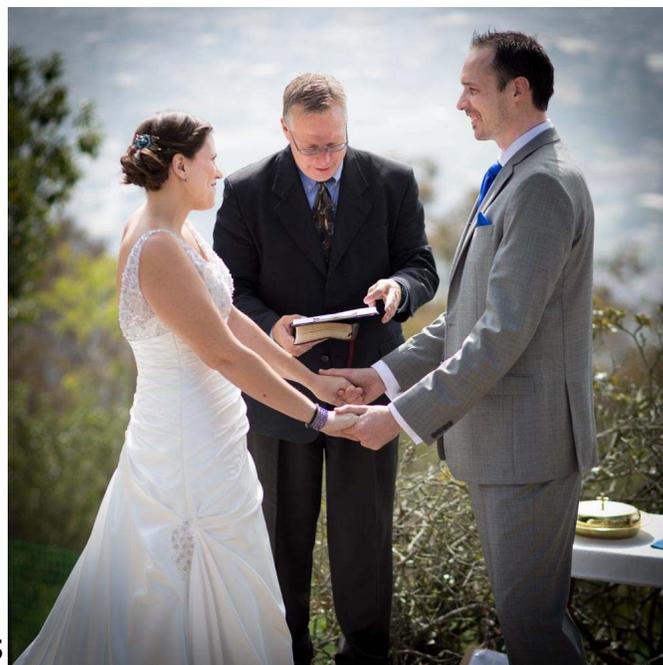

Greetings Family and Friends!

Ryan and I were married on February 22nd in the hills overlooking Santa Barbara. Despite the gate to the park being locked and a few other minor glitches, the day was wonderful. The weather was gorgeous, the ceremony was happily intimate and the meal afterwards was delicious and relaxed. I can't imagine a better way to begin married life.

Ryan took me to Malibu and Big Bear on our honeymoon. We enjoyed our time together adjusting to marriage while looking out onto the ocean with the cats who shared our beach bungalow. And we took in the mountain views while playing a few rounds of foosball and relaxing in the cozy mountain cabin.

Now we are slowly settling into our Camarillo home. Marriage is beautiful, challenging, wonderful and overwhelming. But there is no doubt that this man is God's best for me. I'm trying to take each day as it comes. For me this means a lot of laughter and frustration while enjoying the sweet struggle that comes when two lives become one. Life with Ryan is already a wonderful adventure.

One of the best things about getting married is that we both gain a new set of family and friends. Thank you for loving us and welcoming us together. We are thankful for each and every one of you.

With Abundant Smiles-

Joy Reiter :-)

Pictures provided by Frye Photography:
fryephotography.smugmug.com

“Marriage is fun. I recommend it.” -Ryan Reiter

Future Plans

For those of you who were wondering, no babies yet. We do want a family but at this point we are focusing on each other and where God would have us serving together. We are still praying about the opportunity to live and work overseas. And also taking the steps to see if Australia is that place. We are preparing, making plans and raising funds to visit Perth in June. We are thankful for the generous support we have already received towards this trip. To contribute please visit: joyellen.wordpress.com/wedding/registry/. Through this process we are learning about how we each make decisions and trying to listen to God’s voice together. We want our plans to be in line with God’s plans and this involves waiting and abundant patience. Since these are not my gifts, I am thankful to have an amazingly patient husband.

NEW Contact Information

New Mailing Address:
Email us and ask for it.
We live in Camarillo now.

New Email Addresses:
Joy- joyellenreiter@gmail.com
Ryan- LPtruntable@yahoo.com

The Blog Continues:
joyellen.wordpress.com
For those of you from Ryan’s world. My blog is a great way to keep up with us and follow our daily lives. Bookmark it or sign up to receive the posts via email.