Hello Family and Friends-

While on our current support raising and training trip around the US, we have experienced weather extremes. We mean this literally with muggy heat mixed with beautiful temperate days as well as thunderstorms and even snow.

But we also mean this metaphorically. We've seen God work powerfully to open doors for us to get to Australia. Joy has been accepted at UWA (the University of Western Australia) to get her Masters in Social Work. This program will undergird our ministry as well as partially pave the way for us to live in Australia.

We have also received many generous one-time gifts that will help cover part of the education costs and also help us continue support raising debt free.

However, our monthly support remains static. Despite many miles on our car, presentations, prayers, conversations and new contacts, we are experiencing a monthly support plateau. We need regular monthly, quarterly or yearly giving to get us to Australia in the fall of this year.

With the acceptance into the masters program, we have a new sense of urgency with our timeline. We look forward to God opening His storehouses and providing for us. Thank you to everyone who is joining us on this amazing journey.

In His Service-

Ryan and Joy
